

Lean Management

L&A provides highly specialized and experienced-based management support to assist our clients in implementing lean management processes and procedures.

Capabilities

Our highly experienced staff assist our clients in identifying and implementing opportunities to improve efficiency and reduce costs. A strong lean management program will systematically achieve incremental changes in processes to improve efficiency and quality and eliminate waste. Our comprehensive approach includes:

- Examination of the contractual and regulatory requirements
- Identifying each step in the process and eliminating those steps that do not create value
- Establishing performance metrics for the streamlined systems.

It also includes using metrics and benchmarking data to identify additional improvement opportunities and incorporate best business practices. This process is done on a continuous basis as a way to drive lean management into the culture of the organization. L&A staff are uniquely qualified in this area with a wealth of experience in DOE operations and in supporting organizations by using its awareness and involvement with both domestic and international programs to bring to bear best in class processes and procedures.

Project Experience

L&A personnel have participated in lean process reviews at several sites and will begin providing that support to Sandia as a key subcontractor. L&A creates teams of Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) who apply their knowledge depth of the DOE systems and requirements, and industry and government experience to uncover opportunities to apply lean management to streamline processes.

Specifically, in the business processes areas of contracts, procurements, HR, budget/finance and facility management, L&A is able to leverage its deep SME base to find work processes that do not add value. This reachback capability allows L&A the opportunity to have a broad knowledge of ongoing Best Practices that can be brought to bear on other projects and sites that L&A is present. This allows L&A the capability to assist projects and programs to continuously improve their efficiencies and drive down costs through Lean Management implementation.
